Italy's Foreign Minister Quits After Criticism of Peace Try

ROME (AP)—Aminore Fanfani, president of the U.N. General Assembly, resigned today as Italy's foreign minister after a storm of criticism over his role in handling a purported North Viet Nam peace feeler which Hanoi disavowed.

The resignation of the fiery little foreign minister came only a week before a special session of the Chamber of Deputies called to question his part as middleman in the purported peace maneuver.

Fanfani made it clear he still wants to face the commission and answer its questions.

Before Critics — He asked that his resignation become effective Jan. 6, one day after the extraordinary commission hearing, so that he can appear before his critics while still foreign minister.

Some here expressed the opinion that Premier Aldo Moro would refuse to accept the resignation as a sign of solidarity with Fanfani, who is of his same Christian Democrat Party but who often has been his political opponent.

In his letter of resignation Fanfani indicated that he still was convinced of the good faith of former Florence Mayor Giorgio La Pira who passed on to him the purported Hanoi peace feeler which Fanfani passed to President Johnson.

Over the past weekend a far-right magazine, Borghese, published what it called an interview with La Pira, quoting him as criticizing Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Moro, and saying communism no longer exists and Red China has only eight million bicycles. That was a reference to the late Italian dictator Benito Mussolini's brag that he had eight million bayonets.

Raised Criticism

The purported interview raised a storm of criticism. La Pira said he had been quoted out of context on remarks he made half in jest and half in paradox at a private party.

Borghese said that party was held in Fanfani's home.

Fanfani said in his letter of resignation that he did not agree with the criticism of La Pira. He said, however, he felt it necessary to eliminate any doubts as to the sincerity of Italy's actions on an international level.

The wording of his letter confirmed what many who knew him had believed all along: that the veteran political gladiator had no intention whatsoever of backing down on his action in passing the peace feeler along to Johnson.

A spokesman at the United Nations in New York said Fanfani's resignation would have no effect on his position as president of the 20th session of the General Assembly, since Fanfani's official duties as president ended with the close of the session last Wednesday.

LBJ Sees Cut in Payments Deficit Administration Counting on Industry to Chop $1 Billion

NEW YORK (AP) — President Johnson's administration is counting on U. S. industry to chop $1 billion from the nation's balance of payments deficit in 1965.

That would bring the nation's international accounts close to the balance point, said Andrew F. Brimmer, Assistant Secretary of Commerce for Economic Affairs, in an address prepared for delivery to the American Finance Association.

Boost Efforts

Brimmer said that target is the reason the so-called voluntary restrictions on export of dollars for overseas investment have been clearly focused on industry.

The 1966 "guidelines" on overseas investment limit such spending during the two-year 1965-66 period to 90 per cent of the level of investments in the three-year 1962-64 period.

Corporations also have been asked to boost exports and report quarterly on foreign transactions. The number of corporations to report quarterly will be more than 900, compared with about 500 in 1965.

Brimmer contended that the 1965 voluntary program "is likely to be a major source of the substantial improvement in the U. S. balance of payments for 1965."

That came about, he said, through increased expansion of exports and the repatriation of income earned overseas.

"On the other hand, the continued high rate of direct investment has dampened the over-all improvement," Brimmer added.

Guidelines Redrawn

Consequently, in the face of the possibility of more of the same in 1966, the guidelines were redrawn to attack the investment situation.

Brimmer said that at the time the guidelines were redrawn, there was expectation that the 1966 balance of payments would deteriorate mainly because of "the acceleration of military activity in Viet Nam and the continued high rate of direct investment abroad by U. S. corporations."

"While every effort will be made to minimize the military impact, it was evident that the focus of the 1966 balance of payments program had to be on direct investment," said Brimmer.

The voluntary program was inaugurated last February after the U. S. payments deficit soared over $3 billion in 1964. The deficit was the 14th in 15 years.

Rhodesia Starts Oil Rationing

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP) — Rhodesians began to feel the pinch of the oil embargo against their government today. Rationing began of gasoline and diesel oil for passenger cars, trucks and buses.

Prime Minister Ian Smith waited until after Christmas to announce the measure Monday night.

Owners of private cars will get three to five gallons of fuel per week. There is no restriction on diesel oil for commercial vehicles, but those using gasoline are limited to five to 10 gallons per week depending on size. Doctors, veterinary surgeons, undertakers, diplomats and most government organizations operating transport for the public are exempt.

4-Day Cease-Fire Is Sought by Viet Cong

U. S. Not Mentioned as American Planes Continue Moratorium on Bombing

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The Viet Cong tonight announced a four-day cease-fire in its war against South Vietnamese forces during the lunar New Year celebration next month. Meanwhile, the United States extended the moratorium on its air war against North Viet Nam for a fourth day.

A broadcast of the Communist Liberation Front radio said the Viet Cong would "stop attacking the puppet armed forces and government" from 12:01 a.m. Jan. 20 to midnight Jan. 23. The four-day festival, known as Tet, is celebrated as a national holiday in Viet Nam.

Could Apply

The broadcast did not mention U. S. and other foreign forces fighting alongside the South Vietnamese. But conceivably it could apply to them since their military actions are coordinated with those of the Vietnamese troops even when they are not joint operations.

There was no immediate reaction from American or Vietnamese officials to the Viet Cong broadcast.

There also was no indication how long the American air pause would last or whether the Viet Cong announcement signified a peace reaction to the American moratorium. The guerrillas have suspended hostilities in the past during the Tet celebration.

The Saigon government in the past has dismissed Communist offers of a truce for Tet as propaganda. Nevertheless, a lull has usually developed on both sides during the holiday.

Enjoy Festival

The Viet Cong broadcast said the offer would allow their "compatriots" to enjoy the Tet festival, and allow "military men and personnel of the puppet government to return to their villages, worship their ancestors and visit their family tombs."

The broadcast added an unexplained qualification to the offer. It said that "soldiers, officers and personnel of the puppet government who return to their villages must comply with the practical regulations set forth by the Liberation Front military command."

These "practical regulations" were noted detailed.

When they offered a 12-hour Christmas truce, the Viet Cong said "enemy" troops must not carry weapons and must refrain from any spying.

Peace Offensive

In what appeared to be an escalation of the U. S. peace offensive, a U. S. spokesman said the United States also had suspended B52 raids on suspected Viet Cong strongholds in South Viet Nam and cut off air recon-

Traffic Toll Hits 720 for Christmas

CHICAGO (AP) — Traffic accidents killed 720 persons over the three-day Christmas weekend, the highest number ever counted for any holiday period.

The National Safety Council termed the toll a national disaster.

The figure smashed the record of 706 for a 102-hour, four-day holiday weekend that had stood for nine years. The previous record also was for a Christmas observance — in 1956.

The council had estimated a death toll of between 560 and 660.

The record for a three-day holiday was 609 during the 1955 Christmas period.

Christmas 1964, also a three-day observance, brought 578 traffic deaths.

The Associated Press made a survey of traffic fatalities in a non-holiday weekend for comparison purposes. From 6 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 9, through midnight Sunday, Dec. 12, 420 traffic deaths were counted.

Cigarette Packs With Warnings In Production

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP)—Cigarette packs bearing health warnings are rolling off production lines at some major North Carolina tobacco companies in advance of the Jan. 1 deadline required by federal law.

New packs of L&M's displaying the warnings appeared in the Raleigh area Monday. L&M's are manufactured by Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co. at a plant in nearby Durham.

The warning on the side panel says: "Caution: Cigarette smoking may be hazardous to your health."

Federal legislation enacted this year requires the warning on all cigarette packs sold in the United States after Saturday.

McNamara in Budget Talks With Johnson

'Guns and Butter' To Be Johnson Topic For Next Few Days

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara have gotten together once again to push final preparation of a guns-and-butter federal budget for the 1966 Congress.

The Texas White House announced early today that McNamara flew to the Johnson ranch Monday night for a lengthy discussion of the new defense budget, that will encompass mounting outlays for the war in Viet Nam.

McNamara made an overnight stop at the LBJ ranch on his way back to Washington from a skiing vacation at Aspen, Colo. He had met at the ranch with the President on the same subject earlier this month.

Budget Attention

Johnson will be focusing much of his attention in the next few days on drafting of the new budget.

Federal spending this fiscal year under the Johnson administration is expected to reach an all-time high of between $105 billion and $107 billion. Next year's figure is expected to be higher, with increased spending on the Viet Nam war.

The Texas White House said today no final decisions have been made yet on the spending blueprint for the 1967 fiscal year that begins next July 1 — the period covered by the forthcoming budget.

Sources disclosed, however, that Johnson would be having budget conferences this week with a number of top Washington officials at his ranch home near Johnson City. At least some final decisions were expected to emerge from these sessions.

Promote Peace

Even as he began a final round of budget preparations, Johnson reportedly was keeping in touch with efforts to promote a peaceful settlement of the Viet Nam war.

The White House announced Monday night that the apostolic delegate to Washington, Archbishop Egidio Vagnozzi, had sent a letter to a White House aide asking that Johnson be advised that Pope Paul VI "had received with great pleasure the news that a Christmas truce was ordered by the armed forces in Viet Nam."

The Pope now is urging a New Year's cease-fire.

Joseph Laitin, acting White House press secretary, also announced a planned change in the ranks of Johnson's key advisers on economic and fiscal matters.

He said James Stemble Due-senberry, a monetary expert and economics professor at Harvard, would be appointed to Johnson's three-member Council of Economic Advisers.

'New Left' Spokesman On Unauthorized Trip To Talk With Hanoi

NEW YORK (AP) — Staughton Lynd, a Yale professor and a spokesman for the "new left," is reported in Hanoi to talk with leaders of Communist North Viet Nam and the Viet Cong.

Lynd, accompanied by two other Americans, is on an unauthorized mission that could result in stiff federal penalties.

The trip is sponsored by the magazine Viet Report "in an effort to clarify the position of going because of his concern for peace."

The three left New York Dec. 19 and flew to Brussels, Prague, Moscow, Peking and then to North Viet Nam by way of Cambodia, said McDermott.

He said the magazine had not yet heard from Lynd, "but we expect to hear from him short-

McDermott said the magazine is not paying any money for the trip, and in fact "pays for very few articles." He said Lynd carries papers identifying him as the magazine's correspondent in Viet Nam.

The other two men on the trip are Thomas Hayden, a founder of the Students for a Democratic Society, and Herbert Aptheker, a reputed Communist theoretician.

Lynd's wife, reached at her home in New Haven, Conn., Monday night, said: "He is

Job Corpsmen Not Deferred From Draft

WASHINGTON (AP) — Young men who join the Peace Corps or sign on as volunteers in the war on poverty are eligible for occupational deferment from the draft, a Selective Service official said today.

But youths on the receiving end of federal job training programs are eligible for induction, if they meet the physical and mental standards set for draftees.

"As far as we are concerned," said Capt. William S. Pascoe, public information officer for the Selective Service System, "if a person is in the Job Corps, there is no reason for us to defer them."

Deferments are granted on a year-to-year basis. The young man involved would be deferred only during the period of his service with the Peace Corps or with VISTA.

Once a man has been deferred, his draft liability is extended until he is 35.

One Person

A company workman discovered the damaged shed which houses amplification equipment for long distance calls about 2:30 p.m. Monday while making a routine check. The Winnebago County Police and agents from the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) were called to the scene.

A single set of footprints in the snow was discovered by a company workman, Raymond J. Frey, 419 E. Roosevelt St., Appleton, implying that only one person was involved in the explosion.

Sgt. Wilbur Fuller of the sheriff's department said the culprit apparently walked up to the building, smashed a wired window and threw the bomb onto the shed floor. The bomb consisted of a one-inch in diameter galvanized pipe packed with a flannel shirt. It was capped at both ends with a screw-on cap and a one-quarter inch hole at one end of the pipe was apparently used for the fuse, according to Fuller.

The pipe and flannel were

Royalton Boy's Death Ruled Accidental

Daniel Mehlberg Died of Mishap While at Play

NEW LONDON — The death of 11-year-old Daniel W. Mehlberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Millard Mehlberg, route 3, about 11:30 a.m. Monday was accidental strangulation due to hanging while playing, by Waupaca County authorities who investigated, ruled Monday afternoon.

Dr. Sam Salan, Waupaca County Coroner and Undersheriff, William Mork, conducted the investigation.

Mork said the youth had been playing in the hardware store portion of the Royalton building. Two younger sisters, Jeanette, 7, and Debra, 9, had gone to the post office about one block from the home and when they returned they discovered the accident.

Ironing Nearby
The girls called their two older sisters, Kathleen, 15, and Sandra, 17, who were ironing in an adjacent room at the time.

The two older girls called a neighbor, Howard James, who had the girls call the New London Fire Department for emergency respiration equipment, while he applied mouth-to-mouth resuscitation.

Alone for 10 Minutes
Mork said the youth was alone for about 10 minutes while the younger girls went to the Royalton Post Office.

He apparently tied the rope to an eye-hook and fashioned a noose which he placed over his head after climbing up on a small child's chair, Mork said.

Then the chair either accidentally tipped or the youth leaped from it, he said.

Funeral arrangements are pending at the Cline and Hanson Funeral Home, New London.

Chilton Adopts $610,000 Budget for '66 Reassessment Brings $24.75 Tax Rate

State Credit Will Cut Amount Per $1,000 of Value by $1.86

CHILTON — A $610,359 total budget for 1966 calling for a $24.75 tax rate was adopted Monday night by the city council after an uneven public budget hearing.

Though the total allocated is $82,456 higher than the $527,903 budgeted for the current year, it is almost $10,000 less than the city actually would up spending in 1965.

Accounting for the difference between budgeted and actual estimated expenditures was a $118,891 well development project, the need for which arose after the current year's budget was adopted. It was financed by a long-term bank loan.

Effects of the reassessment completed during the year are evident. The tax rate was cut to $24.75 and will be further reduced to $22.89 by a $1.86 tax credit. It had been $44.75 per $1,000 of assessed valuation with a 3.10 credit. But the assessed valuation of property was raised to a point nearer its actual value—hence the tax rate is down but the taxable value of property has been increased.

55.72 Per Cent
The new tax base of $16,530,030 represents 95.72 per cent of the city's equalized valuation while this year the $8,373,730 assessed valuation was only 57.04 per cent of the $14,679,200 equalized or true value.

When applied against the new assessed value, the $24.75 levy will produce a $409,117 levy, an increase of $24,393 over this year's $374,724 in taxes.

Effects of the reassessment on the eventual tax bill cannot be generalized because each parcel of property was treated individually. In some cases where the assessment had slipped further out of line—generally in the older homes—the assessment was increased a greater percentage than it might have been with newer homes which were on the assessment roll at nearer their market value.

He and his wife, Stella, have four children, three of them married.

There is no evidence of “syndicate” influence in the problem of arson in the state, W. D. Rossiter, head of the state fire investigation unit, said in his annual report filed with the commissioner of insurance.

“The absence of insurance fraud fire is one of the factors making it possible for the citizens of Wisconsin to enjoy one of the lowest fire insurance rates in the nation,” he commented.

Incendiary fires involving fraud have been increasing in the country as a whole, but in Wisconsin there has been no significant change in incendiary fires, the official reported.

Rossiter noted the existence of professional arson organizations in some sections of the country which offer their services to distressed businesses and others, getting a fee in return for helping the proprietors to file fraudulent indemnity claims.

But in Wisconsin the 1964 investigative results showed that the arson incidents were “do it yourself” instances.

No State Legislation
Rossiter noted that state and local authorities investigated a number of cases of dynamiting and were handicapped because there are now no state laws governing the buying and selling of explosives, fuses or blasting caps.

“It seems ironic that while there are laws prohibiting the sale of firecrackers, there is nothing to prevent any individual from buying a case of dynamite, nor is it required to keep any record of the transaction,” he wrote. He said he will ask for such legislation when the legislature reconvenes.

Rossiter said there were 35,458 known fires in the state last year, involving nearly $28,000,000 in damage, on which insurance of nearly $25,000,000 was paid.

Plan Group to Study Federal Unit's Ruling

Members of Valley Regional Unit Hesitant to Comment; Foresee No Withdrawals

Officials of municipalities belonging to the Fox Valley Regional Planning Commission have been reluctant to take a definite stand on the federal government's advice that the commission should reorganize under the state regional planning law.

The commission learned a week ago that the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development feels the commission should be created according to an enabling act which contains a provision specifically authorizing the commission to borrow and use federal funds.

The commission was created under State Statute 66.30, which provides for local cooperation between municipalities for the joint exercise of their individual powers in planning projects.

Borrowing Power
In the federal agency's opinion, State Statute 66.945, the state regional planning law, contains the necessary provision authorizing the commission to borrow and use federal funds.

Municipal officials were reluctant to comment on the situation prior to the commission's policy committee meeting Tuesday and the executive committee meeting Jan. 6.

“I don't think the matter should be discussed until the policy committee meeting,” said Clarence Mitchell, Appleton mayor.

Kaukauna Mayor Joseph Bayorgeon did not want to comment until the federal agency's advisory letter had been clarified and discussed thoroughly by the executive committee.

See No Withdrawals
Neither Mitchell or Bayorgeon felt any municipality would take this as an opportunity to withdraw from the commission.

“I don't see any reason for a municipality pulling out now for all the good the commission has done,” Bayorgeon commented.

Mitchell said the commission “may even broaden. I think the municipalities are in to stay.”

There have been indications that the Town of Greenville is interested in joining the commission. Several months ago it asked the commission for advice in preparing a development plan for the area near the new Outagamie County airport.

Needs Discussion
Joseph DeBruin, Buchanan town chairman, said the group's bylaws “are going to have to be changed, probably to make it a legally air tight organization.” He said it would be up to the townspeople to decide if the town should stay in if the plan unit reorganized. DeBruin doesn't think “anyone actually wants to pull out. They all know the area needs the planning commission.”

Thomas Thorson, Grand Chute town chairman, said he wanted to discuss the matter with Eugene Franchett, the commission's director, and other officials before forming a definite opinion.

He said “it sounds like the group should reorganize, but I want to discuss it with Franchett first.” Thorson “hopes no one withdraws from the group. It has very worthwhile benefits and is needed to help promote orderly development in the area.”

Carl E. Loehning, Neenah mayor, said he is “not going to throw any cold water on it until I find out what it's about.”

Loehning indicated he “will most likely go along with Franchett's suggestions, since he knows more about the situation than most of the

Three Supervisors File For Outagamie Posts

Weyenberg, Verfurth, Spreeman to Bid For Re-Election in 1966 Spring Balloting

Three incumbent Outagamie County Board supervisors, including two from Kaukauna, have filed for re-election.

They are J. W. Weyenberg, 115 Sarah St., Kaukauna (Kaukauna 2); Matt J. Verfurth, 310 W. Sixth St., Kaukauna (Kaukauna 3), and Rudolph Spreeman, route 1, Appleton, (Town of Greenville.)

Spreeman, who will seek election from Supervisory District 39, which includes the towns of Greenville and Dale, probably will be opposed by Stanley Perkins, Medina, who serves as Town of Dale supervisor. Perkins has taken but not filed papers for District 39.

Hortonville Marine Recalls Heat, Mud, Rice Paddies of Viet Nam

While snow covers the ground and frost nips the air, Cpl. Robert K. Lemke remembers Viet Nam and “rice paddies, mud, anis, mosquitoes and hot weather.”

The 24-year-old Marine is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lemke, route 1, Hortonville, during the holidays after eight months filled with combat duty in Viet Nam.

He participated in the battle of Da Nang, one of the most important and bloodiest battles in the conflict so far, but feels that his country's involvement in the struggle is “something that has to be.”

United States troops are in Viet Nam to do a job, Lemke emphasizes, and that job is to “try to abolish Communism.”

Because the men realize this, morale is good, he indicated.

Soldiers grumble and moan at times, he said, but added that “they really take it good.”

When Lemke heard overseas of the anti-war demonstrations and draft card burning incidents in the U.S. he was shocked. “At first I couldn't believe it,” he recalled. “It shouldn't have happened.”

The Fox Cities man spent a good share of his time in Viet Nam in the jungle on patrols and fighting the Viet Cong. Lines were moved twice a day to deceive the enemy, and in the fighting his section leader was killed and some of his men wounded.

Lemke operated a machine gun, and knows that he killed some Viet Cong. “The war is necessary and should be fought,” he said.

The Hortonville man enlisted in the Marine Corps in 1962, but at the time didn't expect to be fighting during his tour of duty.

After training in guerilla warfare at Camp Pendleton, Calif., his unit boarded a troop ship destined for the Philippine Islands.

Destination Changed
Near the end of the trip Lemke and his fellow Marines were told the destination had been changed to Viet Nam, where they landed the next day. He didn't tell his parents about the change in locale for a month, and said there was no adverse reaction.

While Lemke was in Viet Nam he served at Quang Nai in addition to the action at Da Nang. He reports for stateside duty in South Carolina Jan. 23.

Lemke remembers the Viet Nam people as being very poor, with some of them not knowing exactly what was going on.

The corporal was not as indefinite about the war, however. He approves of the step in U.S. military might in the southeast Asian country, and adds if the U.S. was more aggressive, the war would be over sooner.

Resident Opinion on CATV Being Surveyed in Fox Cities

Unidentified Firm Conducts Poll; Report Support for Proposal

A survey is being conducted of Fox Cities residents to determine whether they would be receptive to community antenna television (CATV), it was learned Monday.

Five corporations have filed applications for the community franchise in Appleton and other communities in the Fox Cities complex have been approached by one or more operators seeking cable rights.

While the firm was not identified, it was learned it has been obtaining cross-section opinion of residents on the question of CATV and there reportedly is heavy support for the system being proposed.

Once an operator is granted a franchise, he erects a community antenna and through the use of cables can hook homes onto the system. Subscribers usually pay an installation charge and then a $4 or $5 monthly fee for the service.

More TV

With CATV, the viewer reportedly can pick up signals of more television stations and thus get broader programming.

City councils in Appleton, Neenah, Menasha and Kaukauna are studying requests for franchises received to date and obtaining all information possible on CATV.

Village boards in the area are doing likewise, many of them deferring action for an indefinite period on franchise requests.

The firm that operates the CATV system pays the municipality granting the franchise a percentage of the revenue. Subscription to the service is voluntary.

New Law Eliminates Flashing Red Lights on Garage Tow Trucks

The Motor Vehicle Department today reminded those garages and service stations operating wreckers that they must comply with a new law by Jan. 1, which requires a change of lighting equipment on their vehicles. In general, the change eliminates flashing red lights and authorizes flashing amber light, instead.

Previously, sheriffs and chiefs of police were permitted to authorize the installation of red lights on tow trucks for use only when moving disabled vehicles. This permission will no longer be granted.

The new law also restricts the type of lighting equipment, the mounting location, and when it can be operated.

City Treasurer Mails Tax Bills

Collection to Total $1,710,873; Rules Stated

KAUKAUNA — Tax bills were mailed today and first day of collection will be Friday for those persons desiring to pay taxes this year to permit deduction for 1965 income tax purposes, according to Miss Ruth Wolf, treasurer. Total taxes to be collected is $1,710,873 compared with $1,535,634 last year.

The treasurer's office is open from 9 a.m. to noon and 1 to 4 p.m. Regular tax collection will begin Jan. 3. Persons desiring to pay on the 50-50 plan must pay the first half of their tax bill by Jan. 31 and the second half must be paid to the county treasurer by July 31.

The first installment shall not be less than $20 if the total tax exceeds $20, or less than the total amount of the tax if the taxes do not exceed $20. The provision applies to each parcel subject to taxation and not to the taxpayer's total tax liability. Persons desiring to pay taxes in full have until Feb. 28 to pay at the treasurer's office.

Special assessments are to be paid in full under either plan. Personal property taxes are to be paid before Feb. 28 to avoid interest and penalty charge. Dog license fees are also to be paid when paying taxes.

Persons paying by mail are to enclose a check and the complete tax notice. The portion of the notice which serves as a receipt will be mailed back to the property owner.

Gilberts First Appointees

Lawrence Pair 'Retires' To Hawaii Loa College

Two Lawrence University faculty members will end their teaching careers here this spring and "retire" to posts with Hawaii Loa College.

Dr. W. Paul Gilbert and his wife, Dr. Margaret Shea Gilbert, are the first faculty members appointed to the new school near Honolulu, the school's president, Dr. Chandler W. Rowe, has announced.

The Gilberts had planned to retire at the end of the current academic year.

Dr. W. Paul Gilbert holds the Philetus E. Sawyer professorship in physics, while his wife, a biologist, holds the Alice J. Hulst professorship in life sciences.

New Institution

Dr. Rowe was dean at Lawrence until last summer, when he accepted the presidency of Hawaii Loa, a newly founded college on the windward side of Oahu.

Although Hawaii Loa will not open until the fall of 1967, the Gilberts will join the staff in September, to assist Dr. Rowe and Dr. Malcolm Oliphant, dean of academic affairs, in planning the school's curriculum.

The Gilberts, who both received their bachelor degrees at Oberlin and their doctorates at Cornell University, shared in 1964 the Uhrig award for excellent teaching at Lawrence.

Dr. W. Paul Gilbert has been on the Lawrence staff since 1937. Mrs. Gilbert began to teach in 1946, after the couple's three daughters were in school.

Study at Harvard

Gilbert received a Ford Foundation Faculty Fellowship to study at Harvard in 1952-53, and an NSF Senior Faculty Fellowship to Stanford in 1962-63.

Mrs. Gilbert has held an NSF fellowship for summer study of desert biology. Both Gilberts are listed in American Men of Science, and are members of Phi Beta Kappa, Phi Kappa Phi and Sigma Xi. Dr. W. Paul Gilbert is listed in Who's Who in America.

Mrs. Gilbert is the author of a prize-winning book "Biography of the Unborn," which first appeared in 1938, was condensed into many foreign languages, and rewritten for second publication in 1962.

Malfunction Cause Of Power Blackout

Jumpers, Cracked Insulators Blamed in Kaukauna Outage

KAUKAUNA — Loose jumpers and cracked insulators at Dodge and Island streets are believed to have been the primary cause of a power outage which plunged much of Kaukauna's south side, rural areas and Combined Locks into darkness for about four hours Monday night, according to Norbert Rhinerson, manager of Kaukauna electric utility.

The south side circuit, which serves eastern portions of the Town of Buchanan, Combined Locks and Kaukauna south of 10th Street, southwest of Crooks Avenue, and a small area north of 10th Street near Kenneth Avenue, went out at 5:12 p.m.

Service Substations Substations at County Trunk Z and ZZ, 10th Street and Kenneth Avenue and Ryan Road in Combined Locks are service substations for this area.

Several attempts to energize the area from the Badger plant proved fruitless, and at 5:30 p.m. the loose jumpers at Dodge and Island were noted burning.

Crews then attempted to isolate the area served by the substation at Z and ZZ but the sectionalizing created a short circuit which tripped out the entire system including Little Chute, the north side of Kaukauna and customers north of Kaukauna.

The power failure lasted from 5:40 to 5:50 p.m. Utility crews worked from 5:50 to 8:25 replacing a span of wire, cutouts, insulators and jumpers at and near Dodge and Island streets.

Ball of Flame Crews thought everything was back to normal, cleared their work and an attempt was made to energize the circuit at 8:25 p.m. This was greeted by another ball of flame near the Badger plant as the first short circuit had flipped two wires together near the plant, causing another shortage.

This was repaired in about one minute and at that time everything was back in service except the areas serviced by the 10th Street substation. Anticipating a strong power demand in this area, switches at the 10th Street substation were pulled to reduce the load

The prepaid education plan for children of clothing workers with 13 years union membership is the first of its kind, said Murray Finley, manager of the Chicago Joint Board of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers. The union will provide $600 a year and tuition or living expenses for four years for each child.

'Work Together' Loehning didn't think any municipality will withdraw, commenting that "municipalities have to work together for general development."

John Klein, Menasha mayor, regarded the situation as "one of those quirks in the law we have to abide by and we will probably have to do it."

He said it would be "very poor for anyone to pull out of the commission just as we are starting to see the fruits of its labor."

Roland Kampo, Menasha town chairman, said he wanted to "check out all the details" before commenting and also would have to talk with the town board members. He "doesn't know if anyone would pull out."

The commission's policy committee is scheduled to meet at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the planning commission office to discuss what action the commission should take. There has been some indication the commission will ask for clarification from Washington.

Student Salute ... honoring outstanding high school seniors of the Appleton area. Mike Washechek

Michael Washechek, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Washechek, 606 S. Telulah Street, Appleton, has distinguished himself at Xavier High as a supporter of the conservative branch of the Republican Party. An ardent and vociferous advocate of Barry Goldwater during the last presidential election, he also campaigned for John Byrnes, and made arrangements (this year) for the appearance at assembly of Mr. William Rusher, editor of the conservative National Observer.

Political interest led Mike into student government bodies, where he served as Student Council representative during his junior and senior year. He is presently a member of the Senior Senate.

Mike, as a senior, is a member of the National Honor Society, Key Club, and Press Club, and has proven himself an outstanding student.

To further his education, he hopes to attend John Carroll college or the University of Wisconsin, where he plans to major in political science. After college, Mike wants to enter the field of law, teaching, or politics.
